

Fig 1. photon regeneration (light shining through a wall) without magnetic field (a) and with magnetic field (b). The setup in (a) is used to search for vector WISPs that couple to photons, while the setup in (b) is used to search for scalar, pseudoscalar, and tensor WISPs that couple to photons.

