

Long term support for Fermi Data Handling code

Goal

The goal of this page is to keep track of our progress in ensuring that we will be able to support and maintain Fermi Data Handling code for the next decade.

The plan is to make sure that all projects have been:

- identified as active or inactive
- migrated to maven2
- converted to using SRS code base or generalize and turn into an SRS project
- added to SRS Hudson (and removed from Glast Hudson)

Once all the projects have been added to Hudson we have to make sure that:

- Each automated build will publish SNAPSHOT artifacts to the appropriate repository
- The documentation and javadoc are automatically built and deployed to the appropriate site directory
- It is possible to release the projects in Hudson

Eventually all Fermi web applications, servers, scripts etc currently in production must be replace with the converted code.

Applications

The following we applications are either old or not linked to a specific project

Application	Comment
LatOps	Obsolete we application. It is still on tomcat11 to get documentation off of it. Not linked from glast-ground.
maven2	Fermi Maven2 repository
docs	Maven generated documentation. It points to /nfs/slac/g/glast/ground/docs/
workbook	Redirects to new workbook location: http://www.slac.stanford.edu/exp/glast/wb/prod/
DataPortalWiredBeta	Test version of DataPortalWired
DataPortalFitsSkimmer	To be removed
DataPortalGateway	Maybe we don't need it anymore
Installer	Will become Obsolete

Projects moved to SRS

The following projects have been generalized.
