

Accomplishments for week ending 2013-06-14

The Scientific Computing Services storage team contacted NERSC and Vanderbilt University to gather information about their General Parallel File System (GPFS) deployments. This allows us to learn from their experiences as we look at beginning our own deployment for SLAC scientific customers.