New status codes and front end filters requests

A new run status, OldFail, or AcknowledgedFailure or something, which I could manually set runs/processes in the current Fail state to after investigating the failure. This would simplify debugging as I wouldn't have to wade through piles of old failures to find the (hopefully) few new ones.

The ability to filter the run list on run id (a list of ranges would be good) or date.

The ability to filter the run list based on run status. Ideally I'd be able to OR and NOT them as well.
