Confluence upgrade postponed

We encountered technical difficulties during the upgrade process and have reverted to the previous version (3.2.1).

Once we have a solution, we will reschedule this upgrade. Our apologies for any inconvenience.

On Saturday, August 3rd, there will be a day-long outage of the Confluence wiki for a major upgrade. In preparation for the upgrade, Confluence will be read-only starting at 5pm PDT Friday, August 2nd. Confluence will be unavailable starting at about 6:00am Saturday morning. We expect to have the upgraded Confluence back in service by 5:00pm Saturday.

More information about the Confluence upgrade (including issues with third-party software) can be found here:https://confluence.slac.stanford.edu/x/J6lFC or here:https://confluence.slac.stanford.edu/display/EntAppsPub/Confluence+4.3.7+Upgrade+--+known+issues

Please send any questions concerning this upgrade or outage to apps-admin@slac.stanford.edu