SCS bullet points for week ending 2014-05-16

Scientific Computing Services and Operations staff replaced the chassis of a failing machine for FGST with SCS equipment.   The FGST system was offline for several days due to a series of hardware errors.   The improvised solution enabled FGST to access 134TB of data and to continue an important reprocessing effort for the experiment.