

Data Access

This section shows users how to access their data, starting with only knowledge on an experiment name (e.g. "cxi86715") and run number. Topics covered include event iteration, learning the names of the detectors, accessing the data, and jumping to specific interesting events.