

What are "Key Locations" in the data catalog

Key locations are folders or groups that we expect to be accessed frequently.

Folder and Groups appear in this list if they have the meta-data nKeyData set. The value of nKeyData is the "priority" of this data, which controls the order in which items are displayed in the list, with higher numbers meaning less priority.