

What is the compact description

The compact description is an XML format for describing full detector components. The GeomConverter package supports the conversion of the compact description to various formats. The LCDetectors project contains a number of full detector designs in the compact format.