

Web Page

Create your own web site

You can host your own web page at `www.slac.stanford.edu/~username`

In order to have it appear there, you can create a directory

`public_html/`

in your AFS home directory (see here) on any SLAC machine and simply put your html files there. The server will automatically load the index.html file when calling the above link.